Of each and every kind,
But a better friend than my mother
I'll never find!
Mommy, I love you!
Hug Me
Daddy, you are my favorite man!
And I sure want you to know,
I'll always respect and love you, Daddy,
No matter how big I grow!

With the message «I love you,»
Hoping that you love me, too.

ST. VALENTINE'S DAY
In 496, Pope Gelasius I replaced the pagan holiday Lupercalia, with the Christian holiday. According to the page's diary, Rome was surprised not whole 18th of the month, when people were celebrating Lupercalia, in addition, the holiday is called the Day of Love. Lupercalia - a heavy pagan holiday, a day dedicated to the god of fertility Pan, when people were supposed to make sacrifices, and then, in the same time, a day of lovers. Gelasius I decided to explain why St. Valentine remembers lovers.
According to this legend, in 269, the Roman emperor Claudius II forbade his soldiers, believed that if a soldier married, the soldiers were distracted from the battle and during their military service. He believed that if a soldier married, the emperor, the soldiers, the soldiers, secretly violated the decree, and continued to get married. Bishop Valentine, who was a Christian, was a priest, and he was the first to be executed because of his disobedience. It was executed on February 14 in the year 269. Later he was canonized by the church.
Later, Pope Gelasius changed the celebration of Lupercalia from the 15th to the 14th of February. St. Valentine's Day. After all, he was a martyr, the patron of lovers. Lupercalia disappeared, but there is still much in common between Rome and Valentine's Day.
In Italy, this day is considered "sweet". After all, on this day all Italians give sweets to their beloved. The gallant French were the first to introduce love messages - quatrains.
In Finland and Estonia, this day is called the Day of friends. In addition, the holiday is celebrated by someone who love, just friends (regardless of gender) give each other greeting cards, etc.
In Japan, hold a competition for the loudest love message. Boys and girls climb to the platform and in turn shout with all their might - all they want - to his beloved. The winner receives a prize.
The British send love messages and their animals, especially dogs and horses.
In America, 108 million roses, mostly red, are sold these days and they spend 692 million dollars on candies these days!

Legends of Valentine's Day
One legend says that Valentine was a priest who served during the third century in Rome. When Emperor Claudius II decided that single men made better soldiers than those married, he outlawed marriage for young men. Valentine, realizing the injustice of the decree, defied Claudius and continued to perform marriages for young lovers in secret. When Valentine's actions were discovered, Claudius ordered that he be put to death. And Valentine's Day is celebrated in the middle of February to commemorate the anniversary of Valentine's death, which probably occurred around 270 A.D.
